SHARE YOUR VALUES WITH YOUR 2 O'CLOCK PARTNER

- Do you agree that these are things you value?
- Do you have any of the same values?
- What values do your partner have that you do not have?
- Where do you think your values come from?

VALUES AUCTION

- An auction is like a market.
- At an auction, people place bids on items or things that they want to buy.
- At an auction many people can make offers, but only one person will get to buy the item in the end.
- We will have an auction where you and your group will have a chance to place a bid on some items.

PICK YOUR VALUES

- With your group, look at the list of values and decide which ones are the most important.
- Choose 8-10 values that your group would like to bid and purchase.
- Write the amount you are willing to pay for each value.
You only have 100 points to spend.

AUCTION TIME

- Listen carefully to each value that will be up for bidding. If you would like to place a bid, you need to raise your hand and say the price you are willing to pay. The group with the highest price wins the bid!
- Each value can only be sold once! So your group will need to decide which ones are most important.

REFLECTION

- Discuss the questions on your paper with your group

WORD OF THE WEEK: TO HAVE A BLAST

- Something is great or you had an amazing and fun time.
- Example Conversation:
“How was the Taylor Swift concert?”
“It was awesome. Everyone had a blast.”
“Even John?”
“Yeah even John. He was even dancing!”
“Wow, it must’ve been good!”
